

HIRAM JOHNSON DEFINES ISSUES

"Head Up, Eyes Open"
Stand Demanded of Party in Campaign.
MUST OPPOSE LEAGUE

H. C. L. Solution Also Urgent
Problem Before Party Candidate Declares.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Senator Hiram Johnson put forward tonight the argument in favor of his own nomination for president by the republican national convention.

Before a great mass meeting, attended by many delegates, he pleaded for what he called a "head up, eyes open" party stand, one that attempts to "hide in the shadow of privilege." Defining two big issues, Senator Johnson declared the first was the high cost of living to be met with not wholly by new law, but by unshrinking administration of the present law. "The second issue, internationalism, he covered flatly with the declaration:

"I am opposed to the present covenant of the league of nations," emphasizing his opposition to the league plan of the Versailles treaty. "Against it, the republican party must take its stand," he declared. "There can be no hiding or sulking upon an issue of this magnitude, in this campaign."

"Men must march under the polyglot banner of European imperialism and internationalism, or under the old Stars and Stripes."

Has Faith in America.
Senator Johnson expressed faith in American business men and the standard of American business integrity and patriotism in dealing with the high cost of living, but declared that there was a "very small group" in the ranks of industrial and commercial life whose practices and pretensions, these he accused of breeding "radicalism."

A new epithet, that of "radical," he asserted, had been flung at him by the "kept press." Associating his belief in stringent application of law to those who "advocated the overthrow by force and violence of the American government," he indicated that he had welcomed attacks from sources he described. "If it be radical to demand 100 per cent service from public officials, it is radical to preach that humanity have equal opportunities with property," he said, "and finally, if it be radical to be just American, I accept the challenge."

Campaign on League.
Touching on the league of nations which he said had "whole campaign was based," he declared: "Long ago my eyes turned to Paris during the secret deliberation there. With the presentation of the covenant, came the progress and we found not a union of the free peoples of the world, but we found the perpetuation of the old imperialism."

People were forgotten. Rules remained supreme. Progress was precluded. Every existing injustice perpetuated. "Instead of a pact to prevent war, we were given a league to maintain present existing power. Instead of that which would enable humanity to expand and grow, it was a league to prosper, and found humanity shackled, and the world put in a straight-jacket, imposed for all the years to come."

Armaments Decreased.
"Instead of disarmament everywhere, there were increased armaments. The hopes of those who had earnestly wished and fervently prayed were blighted. Instead of the covenant represented the triumph of cynical old world diplomacy, the defeat of new world liberalism. Declaring he had fought for the absolute right of the American people to meet this issue," Senator Johnson added:

"We would never be selfish or ungenerous with the rest of the world. In the future we would ever respond to humanity's call and civilization's cry. All that we insist upon is that when crisis occurs, the people shall determine whether they act, and how they act, and no European people shall determine it for them. We want our independence of action unfettered for those who are untouched, our sovereignty unimpinged. We want to lead our own lives in our own way. We want in short, to be just Americans again."

Senator Johnson began his address with a reference to the history of the last few years, the war, and the situation precipitated upon the nation.

Must Meet Question.
"The great question now for the republican party to decide is whether it shall as in the early days of its existence, boldly and courageously inspired by heaven-born principles and aspirations, with head high, eyes clear and hands steady, stand for the absolute right of the American people to meet this issue, and timidly hide within the shadows of privilege."

"Every thoughtful member of the republican party, all who earnestly desire its success, would have it avoid the pitfall which the peculiar times present. There are some, now as ever, who would make it a wholly subservient to power. Learning nothing from the lessons of the past, there are those who would disregard the past, and take the great majority of the rank and file of the party, and impress upon it their own arbitrary will. These individuals, abetted by a kept press, affect to view with contempt the expressed preference of the members of the party, and in disdain of the mass of the party, would substitute their desires for the desires of the great majority. These individuals are fortunately few, but sometimes they are in positions of power."

Oppose Plain People.
"In their selfish arrogance, depending upon the kept press for their justification, they would read out of the republican party those who have written the history of the party, the plain people of Lincoln. They fondly hold the delusion that they and their puppets may act in defiance of the rank and file. These few, and the members of the press acting with them, are our real enemies. deny their right to draw the line in republican party against just common folks. I deny the right of any men to act at naught their expressed will. All cry out against the attempt made by a few today to demoralize the republican party. "Avoiding the pitfall, victory is within our grasp. After eight years of high sounding phrases and actions, wholly at variance, the American people recognize the rescue and regeneration of their government. Under democratic leadership they have blindly groped in a mental maze."

"This is no year for the anemic politician. The first great problem, the high cost of living, cannot be cured by a single remedy immediately. The difficulty has been born with the law, but with the administration of the law."

"When these laws shall be impartially administered, when with like diligence their penalties shall be visited not only upon the little profiteer of the village, but the big and powerful profiteer of the city, then some measure of relief will be afforded."

Charging that there were men who by their contempt of law "endured the vindictive radicalism which we all abhor," Senator Johnson continued:

"We would deal with this class just as we deal with the procher of sedition and it is this knowledge on the part of those who represent them in politics and those who represent them in business, and those who represent them in the press that brings us today a new epithet—'radical.' It is the new bogey with which to frighten the timid."

"There are radicals in this country. There are a few who preach the overthrow of the government by force and violence, and whom we would all make feel the sting of law. Every normal American would deal drastically with these. But there is another class of radicals too, who preach the overthrow of the government by force and violence, and whom we would all make feel the sting of law."

"If it be radical to demand 100 per cent service from public officials, it is radical to demand 100 per cent service and righteousness in government; if it be radical to preach that humanity have equal consideration with property, it is radical to demand 100 per cent service from public officials, it is radical to demand 100 per cent service and righteousness in government; if it be radical to preach that humanity have equal consideration with property, it is radical to demand 100 per cent service from public officials, it is radical to demand 100 per cent service and righteousness in government."

Convention Men With Out-of-Town Doctors Can't Get "Medicine"

CHICAGO, June 7.—Many unhoused delegates, accustomed to an eye-opener or a nightcap, came to Chicago prepared with a stack of "prescriptions" from the doctor back home. Federal prohibition Director Howard, however, today decreed that delegates they must not fill them. The result is varying.

A tired man with a husky voice rapped on his hotel door today and the ensuing inquiry said:

"Doctor, I have a cold."

"Do you want a cold treated, or do you want a prescription?" shot back the doctor.

"Whaddya mean?" demanded the patient.

SOCIALISTS SPLIT IN BERLIN COUNT

Independents Lead Majority
Party With Nationalists Far Behind.

BERLIN, June 7.—The independent socialists were leading the majority socialists by a slight margin in yesterday's parliamentary elections, according to returns available up to 10 o'clock this morning. The vote follows:

Independent socialists, 3,448,000; majority socialists, 3,523,044; democratic party, 2,432,000; German nationalists, 1,372,000; communists, 1,804,000; communists, 239,000.

These returns were not considered sufficient to show definitely whether the government coalition would be disrupted. While the majority socialists and democrats were heavy losers in Greater Berlin and other industrial centers, the leaders were hopeful that the final count, which will not be completed before Tuesday night, would reveal the three-party bloc (the centerists) would be left intact, if only by a small majority.

The liberal press, including the majority socialists, took a gloomy view of the outcome as early returns indicated while the conservative press were jubilant. The liberal editorial comment in general laid stress on the swing of the vote in both the extreme right and the extreme left as represented respectively by the conservative party, by Fred G. Dennis, state bank commissioner.

It is indicated that Matthias Erzberger, former vice chancellor and minister of finance, has been elected from the independent socialists.

German democrats: Her von Siemens, Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former minister of commerce, State Secretary, Herr Hausmann, Herr Ruchke, Prof. Walter Shuecking. Majority socialists: Hugo Heilmann, Richard Fischer, Otto Schott, Philipp Scheidemann, Eduard Bernstein, Otto Wels, Dr. Gustav Bauer, present minister of finance.

German people's party: Dr. Karl Heffelfrich, former vice chancellor, Herr Heffelfrich, president of Wilhelm Kahl, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Herr von Kautsky.

German nationalists: Herr Wulle, Herr Klavertzen. Independent socialists: Karl Fritz Zubell, Herr Breitscheid.

LABOR MAY URGE AID FOR IRELAND

Want A. F. of L. to Re-affirm Indorsement of "Republic."

MEET ON BRITISH SOIL

Annual Convention Meeting in Canada to Denounce England's Attitude.

MONTREAL, June 7.—Despite the fact that they are on British soil, certain delegates to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor today launched the fight to have the federation reaffirm its indorsement of the Irish republic and demand that the military forces of occupation in Ireland be withdrawn by the English government.

Peter J. Brady, New York, representing the allied printing trades, headed the delegates presenting a resolution on the Irish question, which charged the English government is seeking to "destroy through military forces the republican form of government already established by the Irish people," and urged: "That the Irish people be allowed to guide their destinies and all possible aid be rendered the people of Ireland." It was referred to committee.

Delegates sponsoring the resolution declared they would not be deterred from denouncing the English government and its Irish policy because they were on British soil. Among other resolutions presented was one from the garment workers' delegation from New York, asking the convention to demand that the blockade against soviet Russia be lifted.

Any attempt to enforce compulsory labor by making strikes unlawful must be resented at all costs. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared in his address at the opening of the federation's fortieth annual convention.

"I have no fear as to what the result will be," he said. "As long as I have life and my mind is not impaired, I shall stand for the right of the men and women toilers of the world to be free, untrammelled and unowned by any force."
